“ To the family and friends of Amanda S.Zamarripa, I am so sorry to read of the death of your dear loved one. Death is an enemy that has hurt all of us at some time in life. Death was never part of Almighty God's original purpose. However, the promise is given to us in the Bible at John 5:28&29, that Jesus Christ will awaken those asleep in death to a life of peace on a paradise earth. This is a reality that will soon be fulfilled. Please take serious God's word to conform our lives to the will of our Creator, that we may have the opportunity to receive his blessings. John 17:3 tells us: "This means everlasting life, their coming to know you, the only true God, and the one whom you sent, Jesus Christ."

“ When I think of you Amanda, I don't think of the last 4 years since we lost touch or any bad times or dumb girl drama or adult problems that life brings. I think of all the years that we had so many great memories. I have been given the privelege in my life to see the real Amanda. Who you were inside your heart. You were the fun loving, silly girl, who always tried to smile through any situation. You had thick skin and were tiny but so mighty. You had a very unique sense of fashion and you loved setting your own trends. You were HILARIOUS and made me laugh more times than I can count. You had a green thumb and loved landscaping and making things more beautiful. You loved shopping and not for yourself. You loved shopping for other people because the thrill of being able to make someone else happy, made you happy. You were a great mother and your heart would ache if you couldn't give your children something. You were a great daughter and always wanted to help your parents in any way you could. You were a great sister and would kick anyone's ass that ever messed with your siblings. I talked to Jamie Low and she told me that she talked to you on Monday and that you said that you didn't care about having more children yourself, that you just wanted Marlene to be able to have a kid because you know how bad she wants that. And that is the perfect explanation as to who you were. Selfless. You were a great friend, if you had $5 you would have spent it on me just because you did. Thank you Amanda for all of the fun times that we had. And for letting me be a part of your children's lives for many years. And for introducing me to your entire family including Marlene, who was my first love in a sense, and your parents and brother and Aunts and Uncles and cousins etc. I have many fond memories of those years and will honestly cherish them. If anyone deserves to have a beautiful entrance into heaven it is you. And if they don't already have beautiful landscaping up there, they will now... Oh and you will have a plentiful amount of gifts to give I am sure. And you will be happy. And you will shine down on your kids and know that those are two wonderful gifts that you gave this world. What is better than that? Rest in Peace.

P.S. I looked through all of my yearbooks again and enjoyed reading everything you wrote which always took up an entire page.

“ Amanda and I weren't the closest cousins ,but I always admired what a strong and great women and mom she was.and yes like I said we weren't the closest but she was always there to join me in my celebrations and even more important when things weren't so good,and what I loved that even though it was only on special occasion that we saw each other but how it felt like we talked all the time...I could go on and on on what a great loving person she was but how we all know this already. But one memory that I always carried in my heart with her was when I was pregnant with my 1st child every one was telling me how my life was over now and she kinda of pulled me to the side and said Vanessa yes your old life is over but you are yet to start a new wonderful life of motherhood and it's such a beautiful thing.and how those words always stuck to me,it saddened me so much to know she's gone and that my uncle and aunt are force to go threw this especially her wonderful kids and sister and brother.love you Mandy you will truly be missed ?

“ I remember this time when Amanda was over at our house... We were outside in our driveway admiring my nice parking job of my boat. I was telling her how I wish I could move it over or straighten it out a little. Mind u this boat was huge and weighed a few thousand pounds. Ill never forget it! Manda looked at me all serious and was like u ready, lets move it by hand. No chance I told her lol, but if there was ever a woman strong enough to lift this boat, it was Amanda! She was the strongest woman that I had ever met! I feel truly blessed to have known her and am deeply saddened to see her pass... Will never forget ATG
