“ To my sister Diana, I will miss you deeply in the days to come. I will miss our talks on the telephone that we would had. Even though we were unable to visit each other we still had the telephone to keep us connected. I know you are in a better place now and are with our parents and brothers and sisters and you beloved husband once again. I will think of you often and remember the fun times our families had together. Until that day I am to join everyone once again I send my love. From your loving Sister Dolores.
