“ We got to know Dee through our frequent visits to Lauer's In-Town Restaurant. She became our favorite waitress and when we made our reservations, we always requested her. Her service to my family and many friends was always the best. It just amazed us that she could carry those large trays with multiple dinners on them. Even though we moved out of Calumet City, we still made many trips back to Lauer's. Our families and friends got to know her. She remained "our" waitress until our last visit to Lauer's just a few weeks before they closed their doors in June of 2006. She always seemed kind and compassionate and had some funny things to say. In a small way, she became part of our extended family. Since the closing, I remained in contact with her through our annual Christmas card exchanges, when she would always remind me of how much she loved the ceramics we had given to her through the years, and on a few occasions, we would run into her at the American Legion in Lansing. She was such a vibrant soul and will be missed.
