I wish I had more photos to share of the magnificent Eddie Pitts. He made my friend Allene happy for so many years. He charmed the socks off of everyone he met. I was proud to be the matron of honor at their wedding and am so happy that they got to spend so many years together. I love you Eddie..and I love you Allene.

Allene & Family, As Eddie reminded me often he was clearly rich in the number friends he had. Everyone he touched came away feeling a little better about themselves & the day at hand. Allene, wishing you strength as you move through the weeks & months ahead. Love You Madly, Steve/ Winnie & Dillon Family.

*There are so many memories of Eddie Pitts and our family that we cannot select just one. Every Christmas, every New Years Day, every Easter, and every week in between was filled with Eddie and his humor and his friendship. He watched Jason grow up under his nose, and shared jokes toe-to-toe with my Dad Syd. Always a gentleman, and forever a friend, we will remember him in our hearts forever.

I will always cherish the memories I have with Eddie. I grew up having a constant companion on holidays. Always one to share a genuine smile, a hearty laugh, and a big handshake. Thank you Eddie for treating the little kid of Cyndi and Eric as one of your own. You will be missed, but your time with us will carry on and you will never be far from my heart.

My Dad...he meant the world to me. As a little boy, he was at every game and he was my biggest supporter. As I became a young man, he tried to teach me that I had to make my own way in this big world. He showed me that hard work and the desire to succeed would pay off. My Dad...he had a smile that would light up the room and he would never reveal the obstacles that he had to overcome. My Dad...he touched everyone he came in contact with, easily, because he had charm - that 'old fashioned' thing he just had. My Dad...I'm so proud that he was MY dad and I will continue to strive to make him proud. The impression he left on everyone he met will carry on for generations to come. With All My Love, Dad.
