“”Condolences to Roy, Bonnie and Sandy, Your mother was a gracious and spunky lady. I had many discussions with her thru the years. I was tempted to knock on her door three weeks ago when I was walking home from church but thought better of it at lunch time. I wish I had. Scott Avenue has lost another stalwart mainstay of history.

“ A note to Marialys,

Thank you for welcoming me to the Tinley Park Historical Society and being, for me, a mentor, supporter, friend. What you must have thought of my lack of knowledge of the area and the task at hand in trying to decipher, analyze and record events and personalities that shaped our little 'corner of the world (albeit the southwest suburbs of Cook County)! How patient and kind you were. How humble and modest you were about your own, and your family's contributions to the area's growth and prosperity. Sharing a desk, a space 'in time' we called it. We worked together or independently on projects that may have seemed mundane, trivial and even at times repetitious and onerous but you got us both through them with a twinkle in your eye, a self deprecating musing about both of our capabilities and a wit that was not compromised by your age or mobility. We spoke now and again about the present...the past...and even now and again...the hereafter. A visitor to the museum, seeking information about Bachlelor's Grove, on a tour with others and claiming to be a 'medium', a seer of sorts, stopped a few of us, at our desks, claiming somehow.... 'vibes'. I am a skeptic and do not believe in such things, but she said to you, " I see a man, an older gentleman, standing right next to you, and bending down...and...and he is giving you a flower...a rose". We smiled and joked with you about partnering, social media and you laughed the loudest at our musings...as you always did. I think now...I was remiss ...the gentleman...elegant and thoughtful and caring was the husband you spoke to me about. He has found you now and is able to present to you ...that rose.

You brought a light to my Wednesday 'work'. I wish I had known you sooner. I will miss you. Connie Pavur “ Memories are to be treasured and Marialys has left us with a lot of wonderful memories. Marialys was a volunteer for 20 years at the Tinley Park Historical Society. We loved to hear the stories that she shared with us. It was an honor for us to have known Marialys and worked beside her on many projects. She always had a smile and a story to tell. We will deeply miss her, she was a treasure and a delight, we will keep her memory alive. Our condolences to Marialys's family and friends.

“ I am honored to have known Marialys. When I joined the Tinley Park Historical Society, I was lucky enough to find an empty chair next to her. She was such a gracious lady. She was proud of her knowledge of Goeselville history, and was always more than willing to share her many memories. I will miss her, and her wry sense of humor.
