“ I'm shocked and very saddened to learn of Mark's sudden passing. I found out Sunday morning and would have attended the memorial service to extend my heartfelt condolences to Matt, Frank & family, and his girlfriend Kim. Matt, in time I hope you find comfort and peace knowing no father loved his boy more than your Dad loved you, and he was SO incredibly proud to be your father every single day. Frank, although we never met, your brother always spoke of you and your wife so highly, peppering his words with those "Komoisms" like... "solid", "stand up guy" and "wicked good guy". He once told me you were his idol and the best man he knew. Kim, I am so truly sorry for your loss, and I will continue to keep you in my thoughts and prayers for comfort. I pray that your heart heals and you are able to look back on your time with Mark as one of adventure, tons of fun, lots of laughs, and true love.

“ Spent a lot of time talking fishing with Mark always willing to share and exchange information. I have been speaker chairman for a local fishing Club Arlington Anglers for many years were Mark was a guest speaker a few times for me. We would see each other at a lot of fishing events and always had some interesting conversations. We had talked about him and the Boy which he called his son joining me for a trip on the Chicago River I'm sorry we didn't get it in now. He will be missed he was a Great Man and good friend. God must have needed a good Walleye fishermen for the team and he sure got one. Rest in Peace my friend Hope to see you again someday just not to soon Tight Lines and Big Fish.

“ I got the pleasure of knowing Mark and Matt when they lived in Buffalo. I remember one time going to the Bills game on a cold winter Sunday... We had a tent to keep warm by the fire, but Matt wanted to go sliding on the big piles of snow left by the plows. Mark goes "Hey Matt, you want to get something warmer on those hands" and Matt just smiled widely and said "Nah, these are waterproof"... Of course, Matt was back a few minutes later with soaking wet gloves... But it showed me how Mark wanted to raise his son... to experience it all...even if it meant getting soaked from time to time. Matt, I hope you remember fondly all of the life experiences your dad gave you, and know that he'll be watching you from above to see you grow from being "the boy" to a fine man with all the compassion and energy that your dad brought. We will miss him and we hope that you won't forget that you have friends in Buffalo. I know you are too big to "bowl" anymore, but we can still climb those snow piles together. Prayers to the entire Kominkiewicz extended family. Rance and Sharon Roberts

“ I worked with Mark for many years at Anixter and we remained friends as our careers took us in different directions. Mark was one of the best and most colorful eaters of have ever known! He loved life, adored every minute with Matt, and Kim. He was an important player in the 'circus' and I will miss him so, so much. We have all lost a good man and a good friend.

“ I first met Mark many years ago at a Hyperion conference in New Orleans. While resting on a couch between sessions this guy with a big smile and generous hand shake sits down next to me and says “Hi I'm Mark Kominkiewicz.” We chatted for a bit, discovered we lived about 10 miles from each other then went our respective ways. A month or so later he sends me an email and says “hey, I'm working for you guys now.” That was the start of a long working relationship.

Mark will be missed. He was a smart, fun guy. His humorous insightful opinions on just about everything were always enjoyable and his persistent efforts to improve processes greatly benefited the teams he supported. I feel fortunate I happened to be sitting on that particular couch all those years ago.

“ Please accept my condolences and may our prayers help comfort you.

The loss of someone dear to us is never easy. I can imagine what you must be feeling right now.

Mark and I have known each other for 18 years and I truly adored, respected and liked him. He was my best friend, full of life, with a big heart, with many great ideas, always had a positive attitude. My family loved Mark very much, my Mam enjoyed to make pierogies, my husband Victor baked the testy bread for him. Mark's Christmas tree is still growing up in our backyard from his small seed gift.

He was always looking to help someone else and lifted the overall mood of the room that he was in.

I still can't believe this has happened. Such a shock and yet another reminder that life is short and precious.

He was a really great guy, not only fun to be around but super smart too. I will forever remember his smiling face and will miss him.

A shocking way to start my days without Mark, and a reminder that we are all children of God, here through His grace, never knowing when we will be called back to Him.

“ I had the pleasure of knowing and working with Mark at Household International/HSBC. From the minute I met him, it was as if I had known him for much longer. His energy, love for life, passion for fishing and the pride he had for his son was evident in any conversation that you had with him. He will be missed.

Sadly, I cannot make it to the visitation, but I send my condolences to his family and loves ones.

“ My thoughts and prayers go out to Mark's friends and family. Mark was a wonderful guy.I will truly miss him coming to New York City and us going out for pizza and beer while we spoke about our respective cities sports teams.I know this is a trying time for all of the people who loved and respected Mark.Words cannot express the sadness I am feeling today. We have lost a good man and heaven just got a great soul. Again,I will keep Mark my prayers.

Respectfully,

“ Mark and I first became friends back in 2009 when he took over my job in Buffalo when I returned back to the UK. Heused to joke that he on his own replaced two Brits!

We stayed in touch ever since that time, chewing the fat about work, life, the Buffalo Bills, Buffalo Sabres and recently The Cubbies. He was such a fun guy to be around. When he came back to Chicago (I moved here in 2010) we did a couple of trips back to Buffalo to play in a golf tournament and we had a blast. He lived life at full speed, spoke his mind and played bad golf but you wouldn't know it as he was so full of fun and confidence.

Everyone was a big shooter to him, everyone knew and loved him. You knew if you spoke to him you would come away laughing He was a top guy and will be missed. So long Big Fella.
