“ I remember when I was learning to drive and my daddy came and picked me up from Drivers Ed in his 1986 Dodge Ram 1500. Said if you're going to get your license you must learn to back all the way up the driveway within inches of the railroad ties we had lining the driveway. I said okay of course, I have very few fears. So we get to the house and I pull up to the drive way. I put the truck in reverse and say "now daddy if I hit anything I'm sorry". The next thing you know I've backed into the tree at the end of our driveway. He wasn't mad, wasn't much damage to the tree or the truck and he said "it's okay peanut, you'll get it next time". He always believed in me and supported me to the very end. I will love and miss you forever daddy.
