“ I really dont know what to say here, shawn was my roommate, co-worker, friend, and brother all in one. We miss shawn and martha from our good ol days in baltimore when we were young idiots roaming the pubs just having fun with no responsibilities. I don't remeber crying for something that really affected me. i am sorry this had to happen to my friend, but to martha, eric, plus one. i wish i could have one more beer and listen to his goofy laugh. I will miss you shawn##imported-begin##Andres Aguirre##imported-end##

“ Tommy, Jess, Jeremy, Ellen, Marta and Eric, I grieve for your loss to the depths of my heart. Shawn was one of the most beautiful, kind-hearted, gentle man I've ever known. I once read a poem that really touched my heart. Perhaps they are not stars in the sky, but rather holes in heaven so that the light of our lost loved ones can shine down upon us. Shawn's light will always be shining down upon us.##imported-begin##Holly Johnson##imported-end##
