A good friend of ours down here. Fine gentleman. Never knew Dad, but had deep respect for him because he produced such a good daughter. Thanks so much, Martin!

“ Dad,
We weren't always close, nor saw eye to eye, but you always stepped up and did what you thought was right and did your very best with me. For that I am eternally grateful. Now you are with the love of your life, at peace. I have never forgotten the things you did for me. You will be missed.

Dad,
All of your retired bakers came by last night. They sat and talked about how good a man you were and the great things you did for them in the Union. How you showed them how to get legal, and encouraged them to become citizens. You explained the American Dream. They all say it was because of you that they have the American Dream, a great retirement and even their children are professionals. It was wonderful to hear the stories. I know I told them to you already, but everyone needs to know what you did for so many.
